

Let's resolve Mental Health Service Provision in Northern Ireland... together.

On 24th February 2016, Action Mental Health, will be hosting Northern Ireland's first Mental Health Summit.

Date: 24th February 2016

Time: 10.00am – 3.30pm (registration with refreshments from 9.00am)

Venue: Stormont Hotel, Belfast

RSVP events@amh.org.uk by Friday 19th February 2016

To avoid disappointment please book as soon possible, advising us of any special requirements, lunch and refreshments will be served.

The event will focus on the future of our mental health services and provide delegates with the opportunity to influence the future of Departmental Mental Health Strategy in NI.

The Mental Health Summit is Northern Ireland's most senior-level, private networking debate forum focusing exclusively on improving our Mental Health Service Provision.

The DHSSPSNI has committed to considering the implementation of proposals developed at the Summit in advance of the forthcoming Programme for Government.

All attendees will hear a presentation on the detail of AMH's recent research project – Regress? React? Resolve? – An evaluation of mental health service provision, published in October 2015. Special guests will include the Minister for Health, Simon Hamilton and Natasha Devon MBE, Mental Health Champion for Schools across England. Attendees will be participants in a workshop-style, interactive, well-moderated group discussion.

We are looking for participants who will voice opinions, raise hard questions, and contribute to a working document which we will be submitting to the Department of Health and the Minister for Health.

It's time to stop the drift in mental health services, to tackle under investment, fragmentation and lack of direction. Come to the Mental Health Summit and be part of the drive to Resolve mental health service provision.
