How does IPS work?

- Work may be fundamental in an individual's Recovery Process: Health Professionals play a vital role in encouraging and supporting those who want to work.
- IPS has a strong evidence base proven to be highly effective in Recovery.
- Led by the Service User, it aims to match people to the career options of their choice, reflecting their hopes, aspirations, interests and skills.
- The Employment Specialist and Occupational Therapist as 'Vocational Champions' work within the clinical team to ensure a team approach to supporting people in employment.

- IPS is available to any Service User with an Employment Specialist in their clinical team.
- Motivation is a key indicator of success!
- IPS is designed to support individuals to find and remain in work.
- IPS signpost to expert benefit advice and provides ongoing support to both Service Users and the Employer.
